The Monarch of Hell Jack Apostol 2003 The underlying reality and decisive influencing factor of mankindA[a–a]s ills on earth are attributed to The Monarch of Hell, the Devil. Hitler is a contingent representation and the subject of diabolic and hellish atrocities, reciprocally and hereditarily, correlated as to a vicious circle of tyrannical leaders and subsequent events dating back to by-gone eras and extending up to the present. He is one of many playful ploys of the Devil in belief of their own wildest dreams as to conquer the Devil himself and make themselves supreme rulers of eternity and all it encompasses, and to include the primacy of God. Within this preeminent, ethereal, spiritual, and related terrestrial world there also exists the marked and projected rank of dignity, it being The Supremacy of God that remains in contention and eminently the basis of conflict with the DevilA[a–a]s schemes. HitlerA[a–a]s dream is to propel himself deep into the mysteries of profound space, the unknown, and beyond to capture its vital powers whereas he would become the supreme ruler of eternity and all that it encompasses and to include both that of God and the Devil. GodA[a–a]s spirit exemplification are John and Valerie who have died in a previous life and are now key catalytic factors serving as a deterrent force in pursuit to impede Hitler. In this plane of intrigue, Prophet is the ultimate enigmatic figure of inspiration and guidance.

Scientist's Guide to Poster Presentations Peter J. Gosling 1999-06-30 Scientific information is increasingly being communicated at both national and international scientific conferences in the form of poster presentations. A recent international conference, for example, which involved nearly 500 delegates from over 50 different countries, included information presented in 331 posters. Recent experience has shown, however, that the presentational stan dard of such posters, even at the international level, varies immensely. Individuals presenting well-designed, eye-catching, and engaging post ers are at a distinct advantage in promoting their scientific information. In doing so, they also promote themselves as credible scientists, as well as promoting the reputation of their establishments and countries of origin. However, producing a poster of high quality requires considerable plan ning and the acquisition of specific presentational skills. This book provides detailed practical guidance on all aspects of pre senting scientific information in the form of posters. It is assumed that the presenter has access, either at home, at work, or through libraries, to a computer or word processor, a color printer, and photocopiers. The book is intended to help scientists to gain poster presentational skills in a man ner that enables adoption of an individualistic style of presenting infor mation in a credible fashion. The book has relevance internationally and is primarily targeted at research workers, including postgraduate students and all scientific professionals who are required to present visual commu nication of scientific information.
